While many of you may have received this from other sources, we at Price City wanted to make sure that you also heard from us as well. Please share this information with your colleagues and partners.

We are also asking the public to share this information with their favorite business.

Please let us know if you have questions. We will work hard to help you find the right information and resources.

Stay safe, be well, and let's continue to "have each other's backs!"

Mayor Michael Kourianos
