

Castle Valley Youth Orchestra

Castle Valley Youth Orchestra was started in September of 2018. Selinda Bryant, Annaliese Clark, and Amy Nelson pooled their efforts and skills to provide an educational opportunity for aspiring string players. Each semester there have been sixteen to twenty musicians. The students learn a diverse repertoire, consisting of classical, holiday, popular, and contemporary music selections. The group is supported by Price city, which grants them usage of the Price Civic auditorium for rehearsals and concerts; providing an excellent team to host a showcase performance at the end of each semester.

Due to the pandemic, a concert was unable to take place at the anticipated December time in 2020. Instead, the concert will be streamed on February 26, 2021 at 7:00pm. The city will graciously stream the concert. The orchestra will perform four to five musical pieces, and in addition, a variety of solos and duets will be included in the program.'
